

CRESCENTS WERE NOT IN IT.

The Hawaiis Walk All Around Their Opponents.

THOMPSON'S NINE PLAYS GOOD BALI

A Large-Sized Hoodoo Seems to Have Settled on the Crescents—Defeated by a Score of Nine to Four—Some Heavy Hitting by the Hawaiis.

At no stage of Saturday's baseball game were the Crescents in it. They were outplayed and outfielded by the Hawaiis at every point, and Captain Thompson's nine took the lead in the first inning and held it to the finish, winning by a score of nine to four.

McNicol, the new man, showed up well at the bat, but was not a shining light in the field. He did not stop more than one ball that came his way, though he tried to. As a coacher, however, he amused the grandstand. He has a powerful pair of lungs and used them to the utmost in his efforts to cheer the flagging spirits of the Crescents.

The Crescents went to bat first, and were retired in one, two, three order. For the Hawaiis, Willis got a hit to center for a base, and Rosa fouled out to Baker. Holt went out on a pop up to Ross, but Pryce hit to left and McNicol failed to stop the ball, and on two wild throws and a passed ball, both Willis and Pryce scored. Ahia ended the inning by flying out to Lucas.

In the second inning, Angus knocked an easy grounder to first and was run out. McNicol hit safe to right, stole second, and got to third on an error by Thompson. Lucas tried hard, but could not succeed in hitting the ball and struck out. H. Wilder then hit to Thompson and was easily retired at first, leaving McNicol on third. The Hawaiis were also white-washed.

The Crescents could not make any runs in the third, but the Hawaiis succeeded in adding three more to their score. Hart hit safe to center and stole second. Holt made a base hit to center, and, on McNicol's fumble, got second, while Hart came home. Pryce then lined out a two-bagger to center field, and Holt crossed the plate. Ahia knocked the ball well into the center field, and the hit would only have given him one base had not the ball bounced crooked, and Carter was unable to stop it. Ahia got to third on the play, and Pryce came home. McCriston hit to Lucas and was put out, leaving Ahia on third.

The Crescents managed to get three runs in the fourth. Lishman got his first on a fumble by Hart. Ross hit safe to left and advanced Lishman, and Angus got his base on balls. This filled the bases, and McNicol came nobly to the rescue with a two-bagger and brought in Lishman and Ross. Angus was on third by this time, and McNicol led off his base far enough to tempt Pryce to throw to second and Angus came home. McNicol was caught between second and third and put out, but his play was a clever one and added a run to the Crescents' score. Lucas and H. Wilder were soon retired. The Hawaiis made one run in this inning on a base on balls by Hart, a stolen second, and a hit by Willis.

The Crescents did nothing in their half of the fifth, and the Hawaiis increased their lead by three more runs. Holt hit safe to center, got second on a wild pitch and third on a passed ball. Pryce made a clean three-bagger to right, bringing Holt home. Ahia made a base hit to right and Pryce came home. Ahia stole second and McNicol struck out. Thompson lifted the sphere to left, but McNicol calmly let it go by him, and Thompson got second while Ahia came home. Thompson got third on a passed ball, and Clark hit to Lishman. Thompson started home, but was thrown out. Hart flew out to Lishman, and Clark was left on third. No runs were made in the sixth, but the Crescents made their fourth and last tally in the seventh. Lucas got his base on balls, went to second on a sacrifice hit by H. Wilder, and stole third, coming home on a wild throw by Thompson. No more runs were made by either side, all going out in one, two, three style. The following is the score:

Refused a Passport.

At last, it has been discovered when J. W. Brown arrived. According to his own statement, he was put ashore at Lahaina on the 13th ultimo. He came from the Sound in a sealer named Helen. All this was learned on Saturday when Brown called at the Custom House for a passport. It was refused him on the ground that the clerk did not know whether or not his statement was correct. Brown will have an interview with the tax-collector today, and if he can convince that officer that he is not liable for personal taxes, the passport will be issued.

HE PERISHED IN THE FLAMES.

Horrible Death of a Chinaman Last Evening.

LITERALLY BURNED TO A CRISP.

The Unfortunate Man, an Employee of M. McNerny, Goes Back to a Burning Building to Get His Money, and Is Found a Charred Mass of Flesh.

Ah Him, a Chinaman, who has been in the employ of M. McNerny for over eleven years, was burned to a crisp last evening in a fire in the rear of the McNerny premises on Judd street. The body was absolutely unrecognizable when it was found, being burned to a cinder.

At 7:45 an alarm was turned in by the Bell Telephone central office. Engine No. 1, the chemical, and the supply hose answered the call, but arrived too late to save the burning house. The flames, however, were prevented from spreading by the good work of the department.

The cause of the fire is not known. The Chinaman, Ah Him, occupied the building alone. He had attended a wedding during the day, and returned after dark. He went to his room, and shortly afterwards the building was in flames. Ah Him was seen to come out of the building, and, soon afterwards, to rush back again. He was not seen alive after that.

When the engines arrived, the house was in full blaze, and it was evident that nothing could save it. The firemen, however, did what they could, and succeeded in keeping the flames from spreading to the adjoining buildings, which would assuredly have caught fire had it not been for their efforts.

When the flames had burnt themselves out, a search was made for the body of the Chinaman. At last it was found among the ashes of the building, by Chief Hunt and Captain of Police Andrews. The body was simply a mass of charred flesh, and presented a sickening sight to its finders. The form of the man remained, and that was all that would enable one to tell that the blackened object was once a human being. The body was placed in a sack, and put in one of the out-houses, where it will remain until this morning, when an inquest will be held on it.

The cause of the fire is unknown. It is supposed, however, that the unfortunate man overturned his lamp, and thus set the house afire. As the building was in a remote portion of the yard, Mr. McNerny was totally unaware of the fire until it had gained considerable headway.

The other Chinamen in the vicinity would not say much about the occurrence, claiming that they knew nothing whatever of the matter. They were greatly excited during the conflagration, which drew a large crowd of natives as well.

The dead man, as was said before, had been with Mr. McNerny for eleven years, in the capacity of yard man. He was a hard worker and was much liked by his employer. It is supposed that when he went into the house the second time he intended to try and save some money which he had in a trunk in his room.

The building was insured for $250 in the Sun Insurance Company, and is a total loss.

MORIYAMA CAUGHT.

The Kahuku Japanese Was Hidden in the Bushes.

Moriyama, the Japanese who stabbed a woman at Kahuku on Thursday last, was captured yesterday. He was found hiding in the bushes near Kahuku.

Moriyama was in love with the wife of another Japanese, and wanted her to leave her husband and fly with him to parts unknown. The woman would not fly, however, and Moriyama, in revenge for her refusal, went to her house and assaulted her with a carving knife, cutting her in three places. It was at first thought that the murderous Japanese was in hiding in this city, and the police were on the lookout for him.

THE PALI ROAD.

In Good Shape as Far as the Half-Way House.

A tourist recently remarked that it would be difficult to find a city in the United States which could boast of better streets than the macadam roads in Honolulu. But, he added, this cannot apply to the road to the Pali. Whether Supervisor Cummings overheard the remarks of this gentleman or not, he has set to work in good earnest to improve the valley road, and has put it in good condition as far as the Half-way house at least. What it needs now to make it more permanent is a coating of the fine macadam and the coral stone which are being used to dress our city streets. This would give it a finish that might resist the storms of the coming fall and winter. The road needs straightening and widening, but these improvements must wait for some more auspicious day, when a cable or trolley road will demand the proposed changes.

Those riding up the valley must have observed a new dwelling being erected a little below the electric light works, and on the opposite side of the road. This improvement is being made by Mr. Waterhouse, who seems to have as much faith in Nuanu real estate as in Pearl City Peninsula lots, of which he owns a large number, and is constantly improving them by the erection of neat cottages. Suburban residences will be called for as fast as they are made accessible by steam, tram or cable cars, which annihilate distance and time, so that the laborer may enjoy the healthy breezes of the suburbs as easily as the wealthier class.
